FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF OCEAN BEACH, POINT LOMA, MISSION BAY AND MISSION BEACH

Twenty-second Year, No. 14 | Phone Bayview 3157 | Friday, January 21, 1944 | Five Cents a Copy | Ocean Beach, California

COMMENT and RUMOR-

On Tuesday the 4th War Loan drive opened and business people as well as other residents are hearty in their response. Surprisingly good pledges have been made for buying war bonds this month.

Lynn and Mabel's Coffee shop Wednesday received a new floor covering. It's a dandy in blocked squares of asphalt tile and the girls are pleased with the improvement.

Ocean Bay Chamber of Commerce is organizing over on Voltaire st. Seems the folks over at the north side of Ocean Beach feel they have interests and projects which need attention. Perhaps they have and we wish them luck in their efforts at the Civic Center and Sacramento.

While we're not at liberty to give names we can announce that one of our pioneer merchants will transfer his business next week to new owners. Seventeen years is quite a time and residents are going to miss the accommodating and congenial owners from their familiar haunts. However, the buyers also are old timers, progressive business people, whom we know are going to succeed in the new venture.

Dear Editor:

I am one of your readers who favors "some one" putting in a good bench at corner of Newport ave., near the fire station, as some others suggested to you last week.

If the merchants don't want to put in this bench for the convenience of customers while they wait for a bus, then I suggest it would be a very good civic move for the Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce to do it. The merchants and property owners support this organization and, though I could be mistaken it seems money might as well be spent in this cause, which helps many, as for a war bond to the newest baby to arrive in Ocean Beach.

Perhaps we'll get that bench when another election comes along.

Sincerely,
—A READER.

The Junior Red Cross of Dana junior high school recently received a letter from the San Diego chapter thanking them for 170 Christmas boxes they had made up for wounded service men brought home for hospitalization. The letter states: "You will be interested to know that they were received by patients from Tarawa. They had been admitted from the battle zone to Naval hospital shortly before Christmas."

Marine Paratrooper Killed In Action

Pfc. John E. Sigler jr., marine paratrooper, has been killed in action in the South Pacific area, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sigler, of San Diego, were notified Monday by the marine commandant of Washington, D.C.

A graduate of Point Loma high school, Sigler had spent most of his life in San Diego and was employed at a local aircraft plant before enlisting in the marine corps in July, 1942. He has been overseas about 14 months.

His parents reside at 3238 Goldsmith st. His father is sales manager of a San Diego automobile concern.

Highest Tide In 1944 Will Occur January 25

A 7.4-foot tide, one of the highest scheduled in San Diego bay in 1944, will occur at 9:36 a.m. Jan. 25, according to the coast and geodetic survey. The lowest tide of the month, minus 1.8 feet, will be at 4:40 p.m. the same day.

Kiwanis Education Topic Ocean Beach Club

Past president Milton Lancaster was program chairman as well as speaker at Tuesday evening luncheon meeting, giving a brief history of Kiwanis International, now beginning its 30th year.

Lancaster said Kiwanis now has a membership of 122,000 in 2,240 clubs over the United States and Canada. He explained the controlling act of officers from the head office in Chicago, to the districts, divisions, and down to the local clubs. "Our officers," he said, "are chosen carefully for their good standing in their communities and their devotion to Kiwanis ideals." He urged that members be chosen carefully so that they too will be a credit to Kiwanis and in time be good officers in their clubs.

The fines assessed against members for imaginary or real grievances are spent in welfare work, Ocean Beach Kiwanis club activities being centered principally on sponsoring Boy Scout, Cub Scout, and similar community welfare groups.

Achievement reports sent headquarters must coincide with monthly reports of the club or no credit is given for the work.

In closing Kiwanian Lancaster paid sincere tribute to the example set by the late Charles Rinehart whose life's work exemplified a willingness to be of great help to any civic project and especially to the young folks of community and nation.

The club had as its military guest for the evening, Pfc. Charles O. Whitecraft, cook of the U. S. Marine corps at Camp Miramar. Young Whitecraft's home is at Abiline, Kans., and he is the son of Charles E. Whitecraft of the Kansas State Highway department.

Heavy Rock At Beach Being Furnished Cheaply At Present

(Thursday S. D. Union)

For $3000 the city is getting a $15,000 shore protection job at Ocean Beach.

Fred A. Rhodes, director of public works, told yesterday how it came about.

When high tides started washing away Abbott st., between Newport and Santa Monica aves., Rhodes started looking about for rock to build a wall to protect the street from the sea.

At about the same time Roscoe Hazard, general contractor, was looking about for a place to put rock he was excavating on the site of a federal housing project.

Paths of Rhodes and Hazard crossed, and as a result Hazard gave the rock to the city. Hazard's crews load the rock and the city crews haul it and put it in place.

"It would have cost $15,000 to get the work done if we had found it necessary to pay for rock in the usual way," Rhodes said. "Probably the cost under this plan will not exceed $3000."

The new wall extends from the present foot of Newport ave. diagonally to the seaward side of the police station. It there is sufficient rock Rhodes hopes to carry the wall on to Saratoga ave. providing protection for two entire blocks.

As soon as the wall is in Abbott st. will be repaired and restored to its full width, Rhodes said.

Tax Forms To Fill Out In January

All employers who made deductions from their employees' paychecks during 1943 either of victory taxes or income taxes will be required to file three separate tax returns by the end of this month, according to Harry C. Westover, Collector of Internal Revenue for Southern California.

Those employers who withheld taxes from their employees during the last three months of 1943 will be required to file the regular quarterly tax form, W-1, and to remit the withheld taxes.

The law requires that each employee be given a receipt indicating the amount of taxes withheld from his paychecks during the entire year. This receipt must be given to the employee this month on Form W-2 and a copy of it must be filed with the Revenue Office. This is necessary in order that credit can be given the individual employee for his withheld taxes and to allow a check of the employee's personal income tax returns.

In addition, a recapitulation form, W-3, must be filed, on which the employer will indicate the total amount of withholdings from all his employees during 1943. The figure entered on Form W-3 should equal the sum of the individual reports on Form W-2.

Employers who are holding copies of Form V-2 showing victory taxes withheld from employees who left their service prior to June 30 may file these without changing over to W-2 for such employees.

All forms of the "W" series must be filed together and not later than Jan. 31, which is also the deadline for filing Social Security Forms, SS-1A and 940.

IN THE SERVICE--

News from our local boys in service as well as letters or excerpts of letters will be gladly published in this newspaper. Please bring them in for many service men receive the Ocean Beach News by mail weekly and are glad to hear of former friends.

William O. (Dick) Morris, has been transferred from his work at the Fleet post office, San Francisco, back to the 11th Naval District headquarters at San Diego. Dick is happy to be at home again when off duty and the personnel of his business, the Morris Market, are mighty happy to have his guidance and advice on the important matters of this busy institution.

Mrs. Olive Hawkins recently received a "V" mail letter from her youngest son, Sgt. Donald Hawkins saying that he is somewhere in the south Pacific.

Mrs. Hawkins has one son, two grandsons, and two son-in-laws serving with the armed forces. Her eldest son, Roy, served "over there" with the army during the last war.

Rex. J. Hawkins F1c, son of Roy Hawkins and grandson of Mrs. Olive Hawkins, has been transferred from Miami, Florida, to Melvellvill, Rhode Island for torpedo boat training. Rex was born here in Ocean Beach and attended Ocean Beach grammar school and is a graduate of Pt. Loma high. He has been in the Navy for two years.

O.P.A. Cracks Down On Local Violators

According to the daily press some of our beach business people have been overlooking OPA regulations and the items are cited:

"D. O. Palmer doing business as Dad's Seaside service at 2205 Bacon st., drew a nine-month suspension of the right to deal in rationed gasoline. One of the charges against him, said Mrs. Betsy F. Rehn, assistant OPA enforcement attorney, was that he had sold gasoline without ration stamps to Ira Evert Showers at a time when Showers' right to use gasoline was suspended for violating rationing rules. Palmer's suspension starts Feb. 1."

"Leonard and Mrs. A. E. Schramm, former operators of Dad's service station, drew a nine-month suspension of the right to deal in gas for asserted black market operations. Albert W. Smid, former operator of Al's service station at 2201 Abbott st., received a nine-month suspension for failing to turn in ration stamps when he quit business."

"Bombs Away!" These bombs are leaving an American "fortress," somewhere over Jap installations.

The bombs we make today will be dropping on German cities, Japanese islands in a very short time. The home front must fashion them and pay for them with War Bonds.

Training Plane Crashes H[illegible] Pilot Burned - Rescued By [illegible]esidents

The crash of an army plane at Sunset Cliffs Wednesday afternoo[illegible]ought to local area residents direct evidence of what is happening every day in different se[illegible] of the United States, but this time more forceful because it is right at home.

An army flier, with clothes blazing, escaped alive from the wreckag[illegible] his P-38 Lightening intercepter, which he had lanced through a telephone pole and a tree [illegible]ould hitting a residence.

Wr[illegible] in flames, he was grabbed by neighborhood witnesses to the crash, who forced him to roll on the ground and then they cut away his parachute and clothing.

Narrowly missing the 1068 Santa Barbara st. home of I. M. Laddon, executive vice president of Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corp., in a crash landing, 2nd Lt. Mason W. Smith, 24, of Vicksburg, Mich., was able to climb out of his demolished and burning ship.

Smith scarcely had pried himself loose from the plane when Mrs. William Chambers, a Canadian visitor at the Laddons, ran up to assist him.

Vance Dickerman, manager of the Cuyamaca club, who resides at 1063 Tarento st., ran up clad in pajamas and bathrobe, and cut away Smith's burning clothing. In so doing, he received second degree burns on his own hands and face.

Smith, suffering terrible burns of hands and face was taken to Ft. Rosecrans hospital in an army ambulance.

According to witnesses, Smith's plane had been on combat training over the cliffs area when it began to lose speed and altitude.

The intercepter seemed about to strike the Laddon house, they said. Smith then caused it to swerve slightly. The plane missed the house by 50 feet and sheared through the pole and tree. Smith's ship finally struck a street curb, somersaulted across the corner of a vacant lot, and when it came to a stop on Moana dr., near Santa Barbara st., burst into flames.

Fire engines from the Catalina st. station arrived two minutes after the crash, firemen having seen the accident occur. Ocean Beach and Pacific Beach engines also reported promptly. The blaze in the wreckage was controlled and small brush fires which had been started were extinguished. Fire crews were at the crash scene for more than an hour and a half, because burning magnesium of the plane body and exploding ammunition and fuel made smothering out the blaze difficult.

The engine and all parts of the plane showed how intensely the heat had become, destroying every mechanical part.

Income Tax Forms And Deductions

With more than 2,000,000 Southern California residents expected to file federal income tax returns before the deadline of March 15, at least 400,000 of whom will be filing for the first time, Collector of Internal Revenue Harry C. Westover today issued instructions designed to simplify for filing the filling out of tax returns.

Taxpayers who use the optional simplified Form 1040-A are not allowed to take any deductions from their gross income. The taxes calculated on this form already take into consideration an average 6% for deductions for each person. Only those people whose 1943 income was derived from salaries, wages, dividends, interest, and annuities may use Form 1040-A, and then, only if their total income was $3,000 or less.

Any taxpayer who so desires may file the regular Form 1040, but those whose income was over $3,000 or was derived from business or income property must file on this form and are allowed no option.

Taxpayers who file on Form 1040 MAY DEDUCT: — State Sales Tax, State Unemployment Insurance taken from their paychecks; State Income Tax paid in 1943; real property and personal property taxes; the full cost of automobile license plates and the Federal Auto Tax Stamp, union dues, interest paid on indebtedness, contributions to churches or charities organized in the United States, admission taxes, tax on safe deposit box rental, taxes on club dues and iniation fees, amounts paid in excess of 5% of their net income for medical and dental expenses including premiums on health and accident insurance, periodic alimony payments, and traveling expenses provided no reimbursement is received for such expenses.

Taxpayers this year MUST NOT DEDUCT:—expenses incurred in traveling between home and their places of business; gasoline taxes paid in California, Victory Taxes or Federal Social Security or Railroad Retirement Taxes or Civil Service deductions taken from their paychecks; Federal income taxes for prior years, hunting or fishing or dog licenses, passport fees, special assessments, personal living or family expenses or depreciation of automobiles operated for personal use, losses on personal residences sold, or the purchase price or cleaning cost of ordinary uniform.

Three-Act Comedy High School Jan. 27

"Ever Since Eve," popular three-act comedy of youth, will be presented at Point Loma high school, Thursday, Jan. 27th, 8:00 p.m., school auditorium. This play is being produced by the drama department with the advanced students. Featured in the cast will be the senior A drama students who graduate this semester from high school. The stage sets are designed and constructed by students in the stage design class under the direction of Miss Willa B. Brodie. Another feature of the performance will be the appearance of the Pt. Loma string ensemble in a program of music before the play and between acts under the direction of Edward Janowsky. Yvonne Gerson is business manager of the play and announces that ticketts may be purchased in advance from any drama student or at the box office on the evening of Jan. 27th. Miss Jeweldean Brodie is dramadirector with Wilberta Jarrard and Colleen Cooksey as student directors. The cast as you meet them include Genia Sprinkle, Tom McGee, Jon Kowal, Jay Timmons, Betty Dixon, Phyllis Lantz, Darline Ihrig, Tom Royal, Harry Shannon, Charline (Sherrie) Glick, and Milton Reynolds.

Friends, patrons, and students are cordially invited to attend this production.

Red Cross In Ocean Beach

By ONA E. PITCOCK

For our wounded men that have been sent home, their postwar has begun. Let's prove we are worthy of them. Let's see what we can do for those still are 100 boys in the ward. Have and sewing at the center, 4769 Del Monte ave., and every Tuesday is cookie day. These cookies are sent to the hospital. There ar 100 boys in th ward. Have had letters thanking us and saying it is so nice to have friends so far from home. Will all who can please bring cookies by Tuesday noon. We have boxes. If only one or two dozen it will help a lot.

We are very anxious to have stump socks knitted. One skein knits three stubs. They are something like toe socks. They are for wrist, ankle and thigh. Helmets are also badly needed besides sweaters, jeep robes, slippers and wash cloths.

Forget your routine duties this year and help our boys win this war and help make it as easy as we can for them. Let them know that what they are fighting for is worth the sacrifices they are making.

Remember a pint of your blood may save a life. Call your blood bank and make a date. F-7704. Write to your friends and loved ones in the service. It keeps their morale high. They know the home front is thinking of them. Don't fail them.

Call your Red Cross center, B-5639, or come to 4769 Del Monte ave. You will see the large Red Cross sign out front. We have a sewing room with machines and work to be done. You are always welcome. When you have given 100 hours work you get a Red Cross pin.

You who have been giving one day each week to surgical dressings try to make it two days a week and you who have never gone to Red Cross surgical dressing rooms please do so. Don't let our boys wear soiled dressings. Go to the Marine base gate 3 or Loma Portal school and make dressings. Loma Portal is open from 9 until 3 p.m. on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and the Marine base is open Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 9 until 3:30.

The changing glow and full effulgence of God's infinite ideas, images, mark the periods of progress.—Mary Baker Eddy.

"If ever a nation was harried by foolish government regulations it is our own." — Republican, Rockvile, Ind.

To the People of this Community

KILL OR BE KILLED

United States Marines paid the stiffest price in human life per square yard for the capture of Tarawa, vital Pacific outpost

It was kill or be killed. Your boys did not flinch when they ran into the deadliest fire power along the beaches of this important Gilbert Island stronghold.

This assault, bloody and costly, is one of the many which must be made before Tokyo and Berlin are pounded into dust and ashes.

What are you doing to back up the boys? Remember these are boys from this very community, perhaps from your very home. Any home in your neighborhood which today does not display the Treasury's red, white and blue 4th War Loan Shield proclaiming "We bought Extra War Bonds" is not backing the attack. Every Extra War Bond you buy becomes a direct fighter against Japan and Germany. If you could but see one man die on the battlefield, you would not count the cost of your slight sacrifices to buy Extra War Bonds to make each succeeding assault less costly in the lives of our boys.

You can't afford NOT to buy Extra Bonds in the 4th War Loan if you would help these boys.

What Makes The Jewish Problem

Rev. James F. Roberts, pastor of the Point Loma Methodist church, announces a new series of discussions at the Wednesday evening fellowship hour. The subject is "The Jew." Questions pertaining to the discussion will be brought forward from time to time. Following are a few of the questions that will be discussed:

Why is there a Jewish problem? Is it because of racial prejudice? Is it because of vicious propaganda? Is it because of economic control? Is it because of political expediency? Is it because of a social stigma?

A free and frank discussion at the close of the address will be in order. Everyone is invited to come and be better informed regarding one of the great problems of the day.

Retail Bakers Justified In Protest

Confronted with a government food conservation order which will "cause extraordinary hardship on retail bakers,"a special committee of the San Diego County Retail Bakers association was named last night to brief the local protest for transmittal to Washington.

Standlee McMains, president of the bakers group, said that Carl Pickering will be chairman of the committee, assisted by Anderson McMains and Ed Grube.

The committee will study provisions of amended food distribution order 1, which is to become effective Sunday, and draft a proposed amendment, which will permit retail bakers to use a higher percentage of essential ingredients in bread-making, including sugar, milk and shortening. Meeting Wednesday night with officials of the food distribution administration, bakers voiced their protest to the limitation in use of these ingredients.

See Here, Private Hargrove!

by Marion Hargrove

W.N.U. SERVICE

THE STORY SO FAR: Private Marion Hargrove, former feature editor of a North Carolina newspaper, has been inducted into the army and is near the end of his basic training at Fort Bragg. He has been classified as a cook and in addition his failure to master some of the fundamentals of army life have resulted in considerable extra KP duty. Thus he is thoroughly familiar with the Company kitchen and its workings. He has also learned the finer points of "goldbricking." He is editor of a section of the camp paper. As we pick up the story, Hargrove is entertaining "the Redhead" at dinner. She is having trouble getting the waiter to bring her a glass of water and Hargrove speaks:

CHAPTER XV

"Ahem," I said. He stopped humming a little tune with which he had engaged himself, and he looked at me with kindly curiosity. "Ahem," I repeated. "Are you the waiter with the water for my daughter?"

He turned on a tight, polite little smile. "The water, monsieur, will be forthcoming. I have sent my friend Charles for the water."

The Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor this afternoon came as stunning news to the men at Fort Bragg. There had been a rumor, one day a couple of months ago, that Germany had declared war on the United States to beat us to the draw, and since it was merely a rumor, there was no confirmation or denial over the radio all day long. That supposed news back then had been taken with a philosophic shrug and the thought, "Well, it's what we've been expecting."

This today caused a different war feeling. It was not what we had been expecting. To the soldiers here, whose only attention to the newspapers is a quick glance at the headlines, it was startling and dreadful.

The men who heard the news announcement over the radio this afternoon at the Service Club were, for the most part, new to the Army, with less than a month of training behind them. Their first feeling of outrage gave way to the awful fear that they would be sent away, green and untrained and helpless, within a week.

The rumor mill began operation immediately. New York and Fort Bragg will be bombed within the month, the rumors said. Probably, by that time, all of us will be in Hawaii or Russia or Persia or Africa. Green and untrained and helpless. This business of teaching a man for thirteen weeks in a replacement center will be dispensed with, now that war is upon us. You're a civilian one day and a rookie member of a seasoned fighting outfit the next.

Except for a few for whom the radio held a terrible fascination the men thought first of communicating with their families, their friends, their sweethearts. They immediately went for writing materials and for the two public telephones of the club. Almost all of the 64,000 men of Fort Bragg were trying to reach their homes through the eight trunk lines which ran out of the pitifully overburdened little telephone exchange in Fayetteville.

Miss Ethel Walker, who was acting as senior hostess for the Replacement Center's Service Club, had planned an entertainment program for the evening, but when she looked out at the tension in the social hall, she despaired. She telephoned her boss, Major Herston M. Cooper, the special services officer.

"There's no use trying to put on the show tonight," she said. "Shall I cancel it? And may I turn off the radio?"

"If it's a good program, keep it," said the major. "And by all means leave the radio on. Just hang on; I'll be there in five minutes."

The major, a former criminologist and schoolteacher in Birmingham, was a lean and mischievous-looking infantry officer with a gift of gab and a camaraderie with the enlisted men. He sauntered into the Service Club, noised it about that he was going to talk, and hooked up the public address microphone.

"Here it comes," said an unhappy acting corporal. "Here comes the higher brass, to tell us the worst."

The major cleared his throat and looked over the crowd which gathered about him. "I know that this is your Service Club," he said, "and I'm a staff officer barging in on you. Before I was an officer, I was an enlisted man. And, as an enlisted man, I've done more KP than any man in this room."

A little of the tension passed and the major lapsed into one of his conveniently absent - minded rambles. "In fact, I went on KP every time they inspected my rifle. Couldn't keep the thing clean."

He paused. "The main thing that has us worrying this afternoon is the very same thing we're being trained to protect. It's what they call the American Way—and they spell it with capitals.

"I have my own ideas about the American Way. I think the American Way is shown in you boys whose parents paid school taxes so that you could know what it was to cut hooky. It's shown in the men who pay two dollars to see a wrestling match, not to watch the wrestlers but to boo the referee. It's the good old go-to-hell American spirit and you can't find it anywhere but here.

"You and I both, when we were called into the Army, brought our homes with us. We've been thinking less about war than about getting back home after a while—back to our girls and our wives and our civilian jobs.

"Well, we know now where we stand and we don't have to worry about whether we're in for a long stretch or a short vacation. That should be cleared up now. We know that we've got only one job now and we haven't time to worry about the one at home.

"You're worrying because you're not prepared soldiers, you're not ready to fight yet. When the time comes for you to go, you'll be ready. You'll have your fundamental training before you leave the Replacement Center.

"Spending your duty hours at work and your leisure hours at worry

"As an enlisted man, I've done more KP than any man in this room," said the major.

—that's no good. That's what the enemy wants for you."

"I guess that's all, boys."

He turned to leave the microphone, but returned as if he had suddenly remembered something.

"The regular variety show will go on tonight at eight o'clock," he said.

They come and they go from the Replacement Center more quickly now, or perhaps it merely seems that they do. The training cycles have not been cut down much, but the turnover of men seems greater. Perhaps it's just that we notice the arrivals and departures more, now that war has given them grimness.

We call the train—the one that brings in recruits and takes out soldiers—the Shanghai Express. The term probably was used first by some disgruntled soldier who put into it the bitterness of a difficult transition from civilian to soldier. Now the term is used with a certain tender fondness by the permanent personnel of the Center, we who watch the men come and go.

The melancholy moan of a train whistle is heard in the distance of the night and a sergeant clicks his teeth wistfully. "Here she comes, boys," he says. "Here comes the Shanghai Express." The sound of the whistle identifies all that touches the heart of a soldier.

There was a group of new men coming in this morning, down at the railroad siding. Their new uniforms hung strangely upon them, conspicuous and uncertain and uncomfortable—new uniforms on new soldiers.

They were frightened and ill at ease, these men. A week ago they had been civilians and the prospect of the Army had probably hung over some of them like a Damoclean sword. They had been told, by well-meaning friends, that the Army wouldn't be so bad once they got used to it. The Army will make you or break you, they had been told. The Army really isn't as bad as it's painted, they had heard. All of this, in a diabolically suggestive way, had opened conjectures to terrify the most indomitable.

This morning, they still hadn't had time to get over their fears. They still had no idea of what Army life was going to be like. Most of all and first of all, they wondered. "What sort of place is this we're coming into?"

Their spirits were still at their lowest point — past, present, or future.

The Replacement Center band, led by wizened little Master Sergeant Knowles, was there to greet them with a welcome that might dispel from them the feeling that they were cattle being shipped into the fort on consignment. First there were the conventional but stirring military marches, the "Caisson Song" and all the rest. And then there was a sly and corny rendition of the "Tiger Rag," a friendly musical wink that said, "Take it easy, brother."

Just as their arrival marks an emotional ebb, their departure is the flood tide. The men who came in a few weeks ago, green and terrified, leave now as soldiers. The corporal whom they dreaded then is now just a jerk who's bucking for sergeant. Although they are glad that they have been trained with other men on the same level here, the training center which was first a vast and awful place is now just a training center, all right in its way—for rookies. They themselves have outgrown their kindergarten.

The band is at the railroad siding, this time to see them off with a flourish. They pay more attention to the band this time. They know the "Caisson Song." They know their own Replacement Center Marching Song, composed by one of their number, a quiet little ex-music teacher named Harvey Bosell. They hum the tune as they go aboard.

They see the commanding general standing on the side lines with his aide. He is no longer an ogre out of Washington who might, for all they know, have the power of life and death over them to administer it at a whim. He is the commanding general, a good soldier and a good fellow, and it was damned white of him to come down to see them off.

They board the train and they sit waiting for it to take them to their permanent Army post and their part in the war.

As a special favor and for old time's sake, the band swings slowly into the song that is the voice of their nostalgia, "The Sidewalks of New York," Yankee or Rebel, Minnesotan or Navadan, they love that song.

You can see their faces tightening a little, and a gentle melancholy look come into their eyes as the trombone wails beneath the current of the music. Their melancholy is melancholy with a shrug now. Home and whatever else was dearest to them a few months ago are still dear, but a soldier has to push them into the background when there's a war to be fought.

With the music still playing, the train pulls slowly out and Sergeant Knowles waves it goodby with his baton.

An old sergeant, kept in the Replacement Center to train the men whose fathers fought with him a generation ago, stands on the side and watches them with a firm, proud look.

"Give 'em hell, boys," he shouts behind them. "Give 'em hell!"

Coffee Introduced by Accident in Vienna

Whether Kaffa or Kahwa, kophe, Kaffee or Coffee, whether it puts one to sleep or makes one as wide awake as a sentry on post, the fact remains that had not the Turk soldiers, in their retreat from Vienna in 1683, left behind their stores of coffee beans, this present universal beverage may have remained unknown in Europe and this country for a long time. In his "Story of Coffee" appearing in Natural History, published by the Museum of Natural History, Dean Freiday reveals some hitherto unknown facts regarding this autocrat of the breakfast table.

"Coffee was introduced into Europe largely by accident," he writes. "In the battle of Vienna in 1683, the Turks were finally routed from the gates of the city in such a hurry that they left their tents, camels and personal effects behind. Among them were 500 sacks of dark-colored beans. In the ensuing pillage, the soldiers were on the point of throwing the sacks into the river, thinking them useless camel fodder, when a certain Kolshitsky appeared on the scene. Kolshitsky had been a spy for the Europeans, and in his contacts with the Turks had learned the use of coffee. For his services which had been largely responsible for the saving of the city, the Viennese made him a citizen of Vienna and extended him the privilege of entering any trade he might choose. When he saw the coffee he asked for it and then petitioned for the privilege of opening a coffee-house.

"At first he met with little success, for the Viennese didn't like the bitter drink with the grounds in it that made them choke. Faced with the problem of turning a liability into an asset, Kolshitsky determined to make a drink from his beans more suited to the tastes of Vienna. He strained the coffee to remove the grounds, added sugar and cream and served sweet rolls and filled doughnuts.

"Although coffee had an early start in Vienna, it did not spread from there over Europe as might have been expected, but was rather introduced independently at other points," continued Mr. Freiday, who then goes on to show how coffee beans are now being used for other than beverage purposes. He writes:

"In the world of tomorrow, coffee is destined to play a great many roles now strange to it, for a method of manufacturing plastics from it has recently been perfected. You may soon drink a cup of coffee in what is literally a cup of coffee, or brush your teeth with what might have been a cup of coffee.

"One 132-pound bag of coffee (of which nightmare surpluses have caused Brazil to destroy 66,000,000) is reported to produce 40 square feet of plastic half an inch thick and approximately 1.25 gallons of coffee oil from which various chemical and pharmaceutical products can be manufactured. As any grade of coffee may be used, it is possible that future coffee drinkers will have only the very choicest quality, for there will be no inducement to market inferior grades for beverage purposes."

Slip or Jumper

GOOD planning brings you in this one pattern, a clever jumper pattern for a child—which can also be used for a slip! The same pattern also includes a blouse to wear under the jumper, panties to wear under the slip.

Pattern No. 8557 is designed for sizes 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 years. Size 3 jumper requires 1½ yards 39-inch material, blouse 1 yard; slip and panties 2¼ yards with 4 yards lace edging.

THE new edition of the popular shirtwaist dress has a front closing placket—ending just below the belt! It gives you all the comfort of the coat dress opening—but means fewer buttonholes to be made and fewer buttons to be sewn on.

Time-Tested Advice About Chest Colds!

Grandma Was Right Time Has Proved It

Today, the first choice and family standby for relieving miseries of colds in millions of homes is the same home-remedy grandma used . . . Vicks VapoRub! What better recommendation could a product have!

When you rub time-tested VapoRub on the throat, chest and back at bedtime it starts to work 2 ways at once—and keeps on working for hours to relieve coughing spasms and congestion in the cold-clogged upper breathing passages, to ease muscular soreness or tightness. It invites restful sleep. And often by morning most of the misery of the cold is gone! Try it.

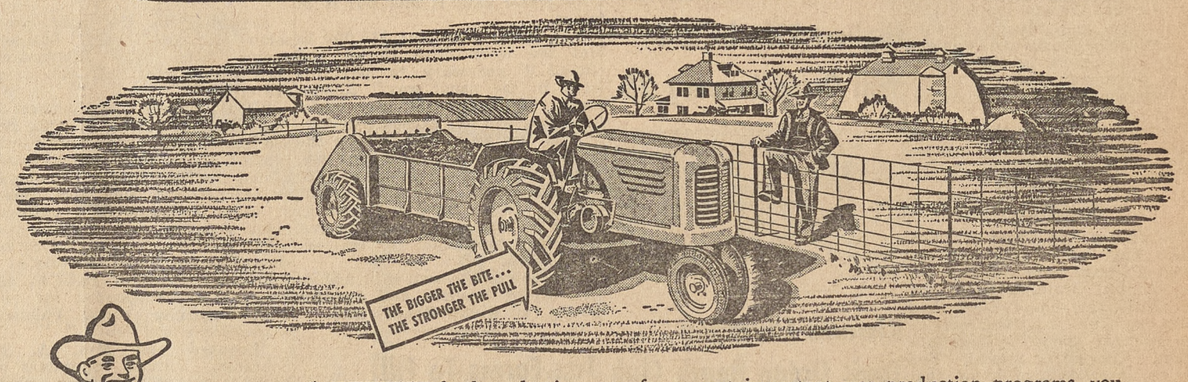
Get EXTRA TRACTION AT No Extra Cost

and BETTER CLEANING, LONGER LIFE and EXTRA QUALITY TOO!



WITH food production one of our most important war production programs, you need the tractor tire which gives—Extra Pulling Power In All Soil Conditions.

That tire is the Firestone Ground Grip. Here's why:

The Firestone Ground Grip is the only tractor tire that has a patented tread design which provides up to 215 extra inches of traction bar length per tractor, providing a full traction bite, greater drawbar pull—and less fuel is used.

The Firestone Ground Grip is the only tractor tire that has the triple-braced tread design. There are no broken bars in the tread to cause traction leaks which make the tire slip and spin.

The Firestone Ground Grip is the only tractor tire that has a scientifically designed tread with tapered bars at just the right angle for the tread to clean automatically as it pulls. And Vitamic Rubber provides longer life by resisting the action of the sun and the weather.

No wonder Firestone Ground Grip tires are first choice of farmers everywhere! No other tire has these exclusive extra values—and they cost no more than ordinary tires. See your nearby Firestone Dealer or Firestone Store today and get the tires that give you most for your money.

LABOR DRAFT?

On the same day that President Roosevelt made his call on Congress for a universal labor draft, Senator Truman of the Senate's War Investigating Committee warned that more than eight billion dollars in war contracts already have been cancelled; that some communities will soon be faced with "a serious unemployment problem"—and that during the coming year you will see newspaper notices of contract cancellations, of plant shutdowns, of elimination of graveyard shifts, and of reduction in employees."

As the only real justification for a labor draft would seem to be a shortage of labor, it would appear that the paramount question before Congress isn't what labor thinks of the draft, what business thinks of it, the farmer thinks of it, or anybody else thinks of it—but rather IS THERE ANY NEED FOR IT? If there isn't, then for goodness sake let's skip all the argument and get on with the job of winning the war.

That, of course, doesn't dispose of the strike problem. But if we can stop strikes with a labor draft, we can also stop them—much more honestly—with a hard-boiled "No Strike" law, with hard-boiled penalties.

PIN-UPS versus POLITICS

The Army newspaper, Stars and Stripes, in the Mediterranean area, announces what seems to be a revolutionary change in policy—the elimination of the pin-up girl pictures and less sport coverage to make room for more news of home front issues and international affairs. The daring departure, furthermore, has been accomplished without complaint from the paper's readers, according to Sergeant David Golding, who has been sent home by Stars and Stripes to cover developments in the national capital.

Sergeant-Reporter Golding doesn't intimate that after a stretch overseas the boys lose all interest in close-ups of Hollywood glamour girls, but he does indicate that men actually on the fighting fronts are inclined to take a much more serious interest in what goes on at home. Stars and Stripes, as a consequence, intends to devote considerable more space to reporting legislative and administrative moves on the soldier vote, on mustering-out pay for service men and women and on plans to provide post-war employment.

"The boys over there are not interested in politics as politics right now," reports Golding. "But I can tell you they are going to be plenty sore if they don't get to vote!"

We're glad that Stars and Stripes is planning to cover the Washington scene rather fully. It is not only a healthy sign, so far as our fighting men are concerned, but it may also have a healthy influence in the national capital when it becomes known that day-by-day Washington developments are being cabled to the men on the battlefronts.

GERMANY, 1918-1944

The headlong Nazi retreat from Russia, which now borders on a rout, with disastrous losses in both men and military equipment as well as territory raises the question of the position of Germany today as compared to her position when she asked for an armistice in 1918.

Is Germany stronger in 1944 than she was in 1918? Or weaker? The comparative facts are interesting—and may afford an index to the confidence of our military leaders that the European war will end in 1944.

When the armistice was signed in 1918, Germany's army, coupled with the troops of her allies, totaled 25,000,000 men. She had lost about 6,000,000 men, killed or disabled. Today, Germany has an army of about 10,000,000 men—and has lost about 5,000,000 killed and wounded. In 1918, Germany had a front line of about 2,000 miles. Now she has more than 15,000 miles to defend. In 1918, Germany had been successful in seeing that the war was waged on the soil of her enemies—and German cities and villages were unscarred. But in 1944, many of Germany's greatest cities are in ruins, millions of her people are homeless—and Allied bombing planes have turned Berlin into a shambles.

Only the knowledge of despotism, destruction, killing, maiming brings one to the surface of Naziism. It has no place for gentle souls; only Himmlers, Schleichers, von Papens, Heydrichs.

Keep On Backing the Attack With War Bonds

Why Roosevelt is Hedging

Babson Discusses Postwar Employment

Copyright 1944
Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.

BABSON PARK, Mass., Jan. 14.—I am much interested in President Roosevelt's plea that we forget the "New Deal" until after election next November. The general belief is that he is saying this at the urgent demands of certain Southern and other Democrats who fear defeat. My hunch is that Winston Churchill has begged him to change his tune. Churchill is tremendously anxious for Roosevelt's reelection to a Fourth Term and has been giving him some good economic advice.

Churchill's Cure For Unemployment

Both Roosevelt and Churchill know there may be a terrific unemployment problem both in the United States and throughout the British Commonwealth after World War II. Churchill argues that the governments of these nations cannot then continue their present "middle-of-the-road" policy of trying to please both leftists and rightists. He believes that the returning soldiers will issist upon employment, but that to give such means either taking the present shackles off employers and investors, or else following Russia and making our industries state-owned. There can be no half-way compromise.

Naturally, President Roosevelt does not like such advice; but he has great confidence in Churchill. Roosevelt is a great compromiser and has hoped to bring us out of postwar unemployment by continuing to play to employers, labor leaders and consumers. Churchill, however, insists that such a course is suicidal. Apparently, Roosevelt is, at the moment, taking Churchill's advice; but whether Roosevelt will continue to do so after November 6th is a different question.

What About Policing the World?

Another factor bothering the New Dealers is the desire of both the drafted and enlisted men to get back to their homes and their old jobs at the earliest possible moment after Germany and/or Japan collapses. None of our men want to remain abroad to police the world. Furthermore, Roosevelt naturally is fearful of leaving the policing job to Great Britain and Russia to do. Hence, it looks just now as if "policing-the-world" is out of the window and that the Washington bureaucrats will have to provide jobs at home in the United States for the 1,000,000 men they have been planning to leave abroad.

Here is another reason that is knocking this 'policing-the-world' idea sky-high. The only thing necessary to prevent Germany, Japan and Italy from rearming is to ration the amount of iron, coal, oil and other essential raw materials which these countries must import in order to rearm. This cannot be accomplished by treaties or agreements as such would develop great international bootlegging enterprises which would surely lead to another war. Hence, the only practical means of rationing these raw materials would be to police Sweden, France, Arabia, Brazil and other neutral nations. In other words, the victorious nations need policing instead of the vanquished nations.

What the U. S. Should Demand

My own guess is that Russia will dominate and protect all East of Germany; while England will dominate and protect all West of Germany and that both England and Russia will have free access to the North Atlantic, to the Mediterranean and to the Indian Ocean. Through agreeing to protect Holland, Belgium and France, England will indirectly get control of the Dutch East Indies and the African Colonies of Belgium and France. The United States will get nothing but the privilege of paying the bills!

I do not feel badly to have the above happen. It may be best in the long run for us to leave the Eastern Hemisphere to Russia and the British Commonwealth with one proviso: This is that we insist on free and open markets in Asia, Africa and South America for our products. To that extent these markets are necessary to keep our people employed, they must never be shut against us. Secretary Hull has the right solution for the postwar employment problem.

Praises Secretary Hull

The greatest statesman in the United States is Cordell Hull. He alone holds the key both to world peace and postwar employment. I wish he might be elected President in November. Otherwise, if Mr. Roosevelt insists upon running, perhaps Mr. Hull would consider being Vice President AND Secretary of State. There is no reason why he could not hold both offices. Then, whether Roosevelt resigned or continued in office, the country would be safe so long as Secretary Hull is at the helm.

P.S. Readers are asking, "What are the chances of government ownership of the railroads after the War?" My answer is that most investors would probably welcome it, but the decision will rest with organized labor. I don't know what labor will want.

San Diego Chamber of Commerce Celebrates 75th Year of Service

There will be business as usual at the San Diego City and County Chamber of Commerce Thursday, Jan. 20. That is until the middle of the afternoon when more than a dozen young ladies in crinoline will take over to begin the brief two-hour open house that will mark the beginning of the Chamber's 75th year of service to the city and county. There will be a birthday cake, of course, with George W. Marston, a member for more than 72 years and president 'way back in 1884 and again in 1899, aiding Hance H. Cleland and other former presidents in the cutting thereof. The gold braid of the military likewise will be much in evidence with soon to be Vice Admiral, D. W. Bagley heading the official contingent. Mayor Harley E. Knox and Supervisor David Bird will appear at the head of the city and county delegation.

Marston, as has been his custom for many years, will spark the memory parade with some of the highlights of the Chamber's history, much of which has paralleled his own rich-with-adventure life.

Apply Now For Motor Vehicle License

Motor vehicle owners of San Diego county were reminded today by the Department of Motor Vehicles that only two weeks are left in which to apply for the 1944 license renewal stickers.

The deadline for applications is Feb. 4th, midnight. All who apply after that time must pay heavy penalties. Renewal of licenses is required for all vehicles operated on the public highways since Dec. 31st.

Applications may be made over the counter at the San Diego office at 310 Cedar st., or may be sent by mail to 12th and N sts., Sacramento 6 or 310 Cedar st., San Diego 1.

The 1944 stickers are now being mailed out to applicants at the rate of several thousand daily together with the 1944 Registration card. Vehicle owners are urged by the Department to avoid overlooking the sticker when opening their envelopes because it is somewhat smaller than the Registration Card. They are also urged to read directions carefully for affixing the sticker to the windshield.

Long and tiresome waits in line may be avoided if applications are filed now instead of later when the crowds begin to pour in.

Civilian Defense---

DOROTHEA F. MILLER
B-3066—District 7

This is the start of the 4th War Bond drive. All women can help in the drive. It is the particular duty of women in Civilian Defense to back any government request.

Mothers of high school girls and boys, you have undoubtedly heard of the new training program for young people, starting Jan. 31 with the new semester. "This new program is for the purpose of providing a program of work experience production training supervised and administered by the San Diego City Schools under conditions and in an environment which are in conformance with sound educational and guidance procedures and thereby further meeting a declared (WMC) and duly verified need for increased war production through utilizing a source of labor not available for regular war industry employment." The women's counselling department and the Employee Service department will maintain their service, through a resident representative at the school.

We know that nothing must be wasted, we must save everything either for our own use, or to pass on to others, when our need is over, even space is valuable, children need sleeping rooms, and the pitiful stories of service wives, with no place to stay while seeing their husbands before they leave for war duty, is heart-breaking. Please report any rooms or temporary sleeping quarters.

During the war, normal building operations stop. Hence, even war emergency housing, homes are at a premium and every precaution should be taken to protect the ones we have—especially against loss by fire. Fire insurance may mean partial reimbursement for loss but in wartime money can't buy new houses to replace the old ones. This situation calls for action in two directions on the Home Front:

Checking hazards that cause or feed fires.

Providing means to fight fires.

Fires may start from sparks from a neighborhood fire, defective wiring or equipment, and other causes, indoors and out. Some of the hazards can be eliminated: others can be minimized.

At least don't give fire fuel on which to feed.

Clear the house, from attic to cellar, of rubbish — inflammable cleaning fluids, oil soaked rags, paint cans, etc.

Watch out for waste paper, wrappings and kindling.

Don't store junk in closets or under stairs — especially under basement stairs.

Don't let trash pile up in garage, shed, or yard.

Replace frayed lamp cords and switches which spark or sputter.

Don't put hot ashes in conbustible containers.

Watch out for oil or grease near your heater — a bucket of sand is a safeguard with such fires.

Use a heat deflector between heater and combustible surfaces

Never leave a fireplace fire unscreened—sparks will fly across a room.

Don't take chances with a "roaring fire," and watch the damper.

Check the chimney, basement to attic—where it's hot, or mortar is loose, there's danger—and prevent "chimney fires" by keeping flues clean.

Finally, watch that match and cigarette — on table tops and floors, in waste baskets, and in bed.

Don't jeopardize, by carelessness, your own home and your neighbor's. Make such precautions a habit—it's too late to reform when a blaze begins.

We still need cheese glasses, "junk jewelery," and your Christmas wrappings and greeting cards, (used). The paper drive is never over and neither is the need for grease.

"As long as Hitler and Tojo have suicide squads at their disposal, civilian defense must be maintained."

All of us regret that our publicity chairman, Mrs. Ona Pitcock, had to resign, she did such splendid work, that her past achievements will never be forgotten.

Pin-up picture for the man who "can't afford" to buy an extra war bond...

YOU'VE HEARD people say: "I can't afford to buy an extra War Bond." Perhaps you've said it yourself . . . without realizing what a ridiculous thing it is to say to men who are dying.

Yet it is ridiculous, when you think about it. Because today, with national income at an all-time record high . . . with people making more money than ever before . . . with less and less of things to spend money for . . . practically every one of us has extra dollars in his pocket.

The very least that you can do is to buy an extra $100 War Bond . . . above and beyond the Bonds you are now buying or had planned to buy. In fact, if you take stock of your resources and check your expenditures, you will probably find that you can buy an extra $200 . . . or $300 . . . or even $500 worth of War Bonds.

Sounds like more than you "can afford"? Well, young soldiers can't afford to die, either . . . yet they do it when called upon. So is it too much to ask of us that we invest more of our money in War Bonds . . . the best investment in the world today? Is that too much to ask?

How To Relieve Bronchitis

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

CREOMULSION for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

If you were to say the first bugle call of the day in the Army is "Reveille"—you'd be wrong. It's "First Call." But you probably know what cigarette gets first call with Army men—it's Camel. And Camel is the favorite with men in all branches of the service—Navy, Marines, Coast Guard, too. (Based on actual sales records from service men's stores.) And though there are Post Office restrictions on packages to overseas Army men, you can still send Camels to soldiers in the U. S., and to men in the Navy, Marines, and Coast Guard wherever they are. —Adv.

How to Promptly Relieve MUSCULAR ACHES-PAINS Soreness and Stiffness

You need to rub on a powerfully soothing "counter-irritant" like Musterole for quick relief. Musterole is better than an old-fashioned mustard plaster—it actually helps break up painful local congestion!

When Your Back Hurts—

And Your Strength and Energy Is Below Par

It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won countrywide approval than on something less favorably known. Doan's have been tried and tested many years. Are at all drug stores. Get Doan's today.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

The peak of tropical American rubber production, including guayule, was in 1912, when about 62,000 tons were produced in all countries. In 1940 the world's production of rubber was 1,389,695 tons, more than came out of the Amazon Valley in all the years from 1837 to 1939 inclusive.

By the use of bud-grafted trees, the yield of rubber on Far East plantations in some cases has been increased from 500 to 1,500 pounds per acre a year.

One type of four-motored bomber requires more than 2,000 pounds of rubber; pursuit planes require over 100 pounds each.

Great Development Report By Giannini

Reporting to stockholders of Bank of America at the annual meeting in San Francisco this week, president L. M. Giannini said that a most constructive development of 1943 was the extent to which the American people built up their individual backlogs of savings. "Depositors in this bank alone added over half a billion dollars to their financial resources through additions to savings and purchases of war savings bonds," he said. "Such substantial savings will create business and jobs by providing purchasing power when consumer goods can again flow freely."

After reviewing the unprecedented growth in Bank of America's business resources, deposits and investments as revealed in the year-end statement of condition, Giannini warned that war progress in 1943 cannot be taken as meaning the worst is over. "It only means that we can eventually win victory—if we will," he asserted. "Hard won advantage must not now be lost by mistaking progress toward victory for victory achieved. In matters of production and self-sacrifice our first consideration must continue to be the needs of our fighting men, without any qualification whatsoever."

Of the future, he declared: "Our heroic boys and girls must not return to a home unprepared to give them all they have fought for and won. Clearly this makes postwar planning our present responsibility."

The goal of such planning, he said, must be full employment, with a national income close to the present level. He stated that reestablishment of small business enterprises figures prominently in the bank's planning and offered the view that prevailing values of labor, commodities and merchandise must be maintained.

"Reduced values for labor and goods, while increasing the purchasing power of the dollar, would, I apprehend, precipitate depression and endanger our nation's integrity," he declared.

He emphasized the need for prompt settlement of war contracts upon their cancellation to prevent perilous delay to peacetime production and employment adjustment. Changeover in production from war to civilian goods should be effected as uniformly as possible, both geographicaly and as to industries, or irreparable damage would be caused on the Pacific coast by keeping its industries on full war production in the war's latter stages while the rest of the nation resumed civilian production. Banks must be ready, and permitted, to exercise their normal functions of financing private enterprise without subsidized governmental competition.

Stating that many of the people's prerogatives have been temporarily relinquished for war purposes, he declared that one right not to be relinquished even temporarily is the right to remain free from regimentation in the form of conscription of civilian workers. "We must have faith in the patriotism and the ultimate soundness of the composite judgment of those of us who remain at work on the home front, confidence in our ability to master present difficulties and solve current problems without resort to those rash experiments which inevitably lead to conditions of enslavement against which we are now fighting all over the world," Giannini averred.

"Achievement of victory continues to be our first consideration," he concluded. "In keeping with what we regard as total victory we recommit ourselves to plan for and aid in postwar stabilization with every facility at our command."

Ocean Beach Elementary School

The recent "political" campaign for the new officers of the local elementary school ended with the following children elected: Bertha Nelson, president; Willie van Gessel, vice president; Peggy Sohnlein, secretary.

Since gas rationing has temporarily ended the school excursions to the zoo, the zoo comes to the different school buildings through movies. Mrs. Lena Crouse, director of this activity for the zoo, recently showed several films to the elementary children. The fifth and sixth grade children were shown films of the ruminants in the zoo; the fourth grade children were shown films of the native California animals.

Miss Gallagher's first grade class is studying "How the Family Gets its Food" took a walk to the Safeway store in Ocean Beach. We watched the storekeeper, saw the arrangement of shelves, and found out what fruits and vegetables were in the market. Now we are all ready to stock the store in our room, and experience working in the market.

The third grade in room 10 is building a model dairy farm. Billy Fields and Douglas Smith are planning the layout of the farm. Paul Bartley, Kenneth Hudson and Sherman Price are building a house for the dairyman and his family. James Harris is building the barn. The fence is being put up by Chu-Teh Kilham and Bill Norton. Buckets and milk cans are being provided by Sue Donna Staneil. Errol Plaisted, David Russell and Laurence Rundle. Errol Plaisted has also built a sturdy milk truck and trailer to carry the dairy produce to the milk station. A water trough has been planned by Jace Bloch, Sandra Getts, Shirley Prince, Alyce Bumbaugh and Florence Etter.

The fifth grade of room 11 gave a puppet show for this week's assembly. They dramatized episodes from the life of Paul Bunyan. This puppet show represents one activity from their social science unit on "Forestry."

TROOP 28

Troop 28 held its regular weekly meeting Friday evening, Jan. 14. Senior patrol leader Carleton Bingham led the troop in "Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag."

Scoutmaster Chadwick introduced Scout Tim, assistant scoutmaster of a troop in New York, now in the Marine corps and stationed at Camp Elliott. Troop Committeeman Carleton Bingham read part of a letter he had received during the week from a scout in England and a close friend of former Scoutmaster Titchnell now in the Army in England.

The following new members were voted in: Jim Hart and Ralph Gastellum, both former Cubs.

City School People Buy Million In Bonds

The million dollar city school quota for war bonds and stamps for the year is in sight with the purchase of $394,032.80 to date, according to announcement today by Maurice Ross, chairman of the bond committee. This figure includes purchases by all school employees and students.

San Diego high school was awarded the "T" treasury flag, the highest award a school has ever received here, for having more than 90% student participation in the past four months and purchasing a total of $75,000 in stamps and bonds.

Among the elementary schools Benjamin Franklin was the first to qualify for the much coveted treasury school certificate. The purchase price of a jeep, $1200, was the goal set for elementary schools. Other elementary and junior high school subsequently qualifying were: Bay View Terrace, Alice Birney, Brooklyn, Cabrillo, Carson, Chesterton, Chollas, Dana, Dewey, Emerson, Euclid, Farragut, Florence, Fremont, Garfield, Grant, Hamilton, Jackson, Jefferson, Kearny, Lincoln, Linda Vista, Logan, Loma Portal, Horace Mann, McKinley, Memorial, Mission Beach, Muir, Ocean Beach, Ocean View, Pacific Beach, Sherman, Stockton, Washington, and Woodrow Wilson.

THINK IT OVER

How about doing a little co[l]d turkey thinking after you lay aside this newspaper tonight?

You've got a good job. The chances are there is someone else in your family, perhaps two or three, working. Your son or your brother—may be away at war.

This war must end sometime. Your whole family, your neighbors, are praying it ends soon and those fighting boys of yours will come home safely.

But will you be ready for whatever happens when peace comes? Will you have something laid away? We're all hoping there'll be jobs aplenty, jobs which mean making something for somebody's happiness and not for somebody's sorrow. That's where your War Bonds come into the picture. Sure, Americans own billions of dollars of War Bonds now; and before this 4th War Loan ends they will have put away billions more. But how about you? You're the one that counts. The bigger the pile of War Bonds you have when peace comes, the bigger chance you'll have to slip right into the post-war world you're dreaming about tonight.

So "Let's All Back the Attack."

RESIDENT HERE FOR SIXTY YEARS

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Peterson, 73, long-time resident, were conducted Monday morning in the chapel of the Cypress View mausoleum, entombment followed. She died in a San Diego hospital, and leaves only a daughter, Mrs. Ethel Wames, of 4667 Cape May st., Ocean Beach, also the home of Mrs. Peterson. A native of Monterey, Mrs. Peterson came to this section 60 years ago.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The Sunday Lesson-Sermon subject in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, will be "Truth." The Golden Text is from Deuteronomy: "Ascribe ye greatness unto our God. He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he."

A Lesson-Sermon passage from Jeremiah reads, "Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah: . . . And they shall teach no more every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the Lord." These words from the Psalms are also included: "I will praise thee, O Lord, . . . I will sing unto thee among the nations." "Let thy lovingkindness and thy truth continually preserve me."

Mary Baker Eddy, the author of "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" writes: "Christian Science brings to light Truth and its supremacy, universal harmony, the entireness of God, good, and the nothingness of evil."

Persia Changing

Change is in the air in Teheran, Persia. Camel caravans are rarely seen in the city; motor vehicles bear the burdens, carry people where they want to go. Progress is apparent in the broad, paved streets cut through the old bazaar areas, in new public buildings, hotels, apartment houses, and shopping districts. Modern factories turn out shoes, cigarettes, cement and textiles. In the suburbs, some of the old palaces have been converted into hospitals and military colleges.

Paint Fabrics

A report from Hollywood refers to a practice initiated by J. Stuart Blackton, an early film producer, who used painted fabrics with success in place of costlier materials, and says modern movie-makers have reverted to that practice as one means of overcoming shortage of some important textiles. Soft blends of colors are stated to be effective in obtaining delicate effects. Spraying and stenciling are among the methods used in painting the fabrics.

Correct Laundering

Correct laundering methods avoid soap waste. Wash first the least soiled articles, and use the same soap and water for several loads of clothes. If the suds die down, add just enough soap to bring them up again. It is wasteful, however, to try to build up suds in water that is too dirty. Better washing results can be obtained if the tub is drained and new suds are made in clean water. It will take fewer rinses and less labor to get the clothes clean.

New Foods

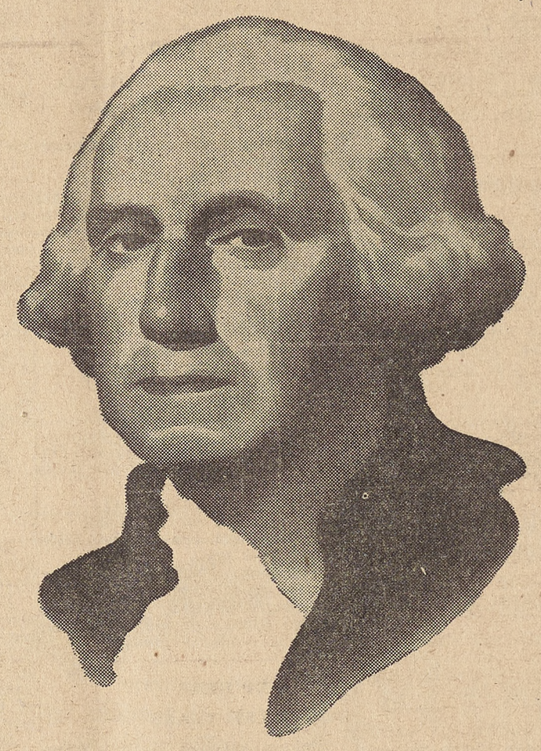
It is not always easy to start the family eating new foods. The first taste often makes a lasting impression, so new dishes, especially those prepared with unfamiliar foods, have a much better chance of becoming favorites if they are tasty and appealing. When an unfamiliar food is to be presented, try serving it in small quantities along with an old favorite or two. Very often a taste for it will be formed rapidly and portions can be increased as time goes by.

China Pony

An average-size, 13-hand-high China pony weighing 750 pounds can haul a man weighing 150 to 180 pounds through two chukkars of polo per day, three or four times a week, and not show the slightest sign of strain. Unless watched, a China pony will run his heart out. Bred on the Mongolian plains where their early food is sand, sticks and dried grass, the China pony when brought to Shanghai has to be conditioned for about four months before he is used to normal food like hay and oats!

In Three Centuries...

Through Three Crises...



America's System of Free Enterprise Returned the Nation to Greater Prosperity than ever

☆ What America has done once, America can do again. For over 300 years, before and after we became an independent nation, through three major and countless smaller crises, the American system of free enterprise has won its way. Each time it has afterward brought the American people to still greater heights of prosperity.

THIS is the system of free business and free labor that has made America today the war production center for the world—and after victory America will be the peacetime industrial center of the world, leading the people of all nations to a happier and fuller life—the American way of life!

THIS is the system we MUST preserve. It can—and will—meet the problems of the post-war period. And once again the system of American free enterprise will carry this country to still higher pinnacles of greatness.

Look Americans! Since the beginning of time, the only road to prosperity has been P-R-O-D-U-C-T-I-O-N and exchange of goods and services at a profit—the American system of labor and business.

From it you have earned personal benefits—your home towns have enjoyed increasing advantages—and your nation has become the richest on earth.

THE AMERICAN SYSTEM HAS CREATED THESE TANGIBLE THINGS FOR YOU:

—the highest standard of living in the world;

—the accumulation of personal savings and worldly possessions—your schools, your highways, your buildings—your life insurance, your home, your automobile.

—money to pay the cost of government, local, state and national, including the payment of governmental debt;

And with it, you have the right to think, to speak and to worship as you choose—rights forbidden to millions not living under the free American system.

LABOR AND CAPITAL CAN WORK TOGETHER

LABOR IS, and has been, a political football. No honest and practical effort has been made to solve the labor, capital and management problem. Political parties have, for years, pronounced against considering labor as a commodity, but no effort has been made to put labor on any other basis than as a commodity in our industrial production.

Because labor represents votes its real problem has been ignored, it has been encouraged to run wild, and a very considerable portion of it has wound up in the hands of racketeers with whom the politicians consort as a means of securing votes. If that condition continues labor will kill American industry and when it does labor will have killed itself.

There is a real solution for the labor, capital and management problem that can be found if an honest and unprejudiced effort in that direction is made. Such an effort has been made with varying degrees of success in a number of industries. In all such experiments, labor has been considered on the basis of a partner in production, entitled to an equitable percentage of production income, with a definite knowledge of what that income amounts to. The results have proven satisfactory to capital, to labor, to management and to the consuming public. These experiments can be the foundation upon which to build a general policy, backed by basic, protective, laws under which the courts can render decisions in individual or collective cases without entailing interminable delays. Such an effort will not be made so long as political parties want to play to a labor gallery, want to use the labor problem as a vote attractor.

Labor today, in the aggregate, receives even more than a fair and equitable share of our productive revenue. Management and capital expect labor to be satisfied with a statement that such is a fact. Labor wants to be shown and as a partner in production would be in a position to know.

It is easy to name reasons why a three-way partnership in production is impracticable or impossible, but if honest and capable men, with unprejudiced minds, attempt to find the way it can be done they will surmount all of the obstacles and produce a basis on which such a partnership can be built. When that is done, when there has been enacted a basic law providing for the recognition and operation of such a partnership, the labor problem will have been solved, the day of strikes and production stoppages will be over, the place of the labor racketeers will be gone.

SERIOUS MISTAKE IN RICH FARM STATE

IN THE EARLY SPRING of 1941 the government began building a large high explosive plant in a Mississippi valley state. As a site many thousands of acres of good farm land was purchased. The farmers were moved off, the farm buildings razed and then, when the plant was laid out, it was found some 15,000 acres more land had been purchased than was needed. Some one had made a mistake. That mistake had caused something like 90 farm families giving up their homes, being moved away to strange localities and among strange associates. It had cost the American people a sizable sum of money to pay for unneeded land. It had deprived the nation of the food product of 15,000 acres of the best of corn land. For the last three seasons that land has produced only a bountiful crop of weeds.

I AM ONE of a favored few who once each month receive a copy of a small publication, "Washington Close Up," issued by the Citizens National committee. It is filled with factual information regarding the activities of government. The facts it contains should be in the hands of all the American people, and if they were, it would obviate all danger to our American form of government, our American way of life. A way should be found to give such non-partisan information a far wider circulation.

I HEAR "The Solace of Nature" mentioned as the subject of a "paper" read at a woman's club. I do not know what the lady said but I get mine by looking over the green lawns, the flowers, the palm trees and remembering the cold and snow and howling blizzards I encountered at this season for so many years.

CLASS ROOM THEORIES are all right in the class room but for government, in times like the present, there is needed sound horse sense rather than the trial and error testing of bureaucratic theories. Give us more men equipped with a practical "know-how" and less of those equipped only with untried theories and dreams.

Tanks Built Like Turtle
This country's latest armored vehicles are based on exhaustive studies of the turtle. This lowly reptile, provided by nature with protective armor, is said to have taught ordnance engineers the essential lessons of "firestreaming." Firestreaming is destined to enable army tanks, tank destroyers and motorized artillery to shed enemy projectiles as easily as the horny shell of the turtle sheds a horse's hoof. Earlier tanks presented their upright armored surfaces to direct impact. Now the silhouettes are lower and the armor slopes in such a way that hard-hitting armor-piercing projectiles tend to bounce from the tank's sides like hail from a sloping roof. The lowly turtle is now wearing an army ordnance service ribbon.

So. American Governments Aid Co-operative Movement

Various American governments, recognizing the values of co-operatives in promoting national economies, actively aid the movement. Colombia has a special fund to help the country's 196 co-operatives, and also provides them with technical assistance. Peru has a government agency devoted exclusively to aiding co-operatives and the Peruvian Agricultural bank extends 5 and 10-year credits to members. In Huancana province 20 new co-operatives are making a vital contribution to the war effort by increased production of quinine.

Venezuela has given direct aid to more than 600 co-operative family units engaged in agriculture, and maintains a special school for training specialists in co-operatives. The country boasts of six producer co-operatives and 322 credit unions, with over 27,446 members.

In 1941 Bolivia launched an elaborate plan to promote co-operative production of wheat, barley, cotton and livestock by exempting co-operatives from sales and business taxes; reducing their national, state and municipal taxes to 50 per cent of normal; reducing freight schedules by 25 per cent for co-operatives and by giving them preference in transportation and preference in the distribution of rationed materials. Ecuador likewise gives official aid to co-operatives, and six of these have contributed materially to the rehabilitation of devastated El Oro province.

The Swedish sunken barrel provides an easy, economical and efficient way to store potatoes and root crops. Workers Make Parachutes to Rhythm of Waltzes

One of the nation's largest parachute factories is located in downtown Oakland, Calif. It employs 50 women for every man and all workers produce 'chutes to waltzes and other soothing music. Left: Hilda Taylor forces bomb 'chute into cylinder. 'Chute must snap open at 350 miles an hour and must suspend fragmentation bomb for an exact number of seconds. Center: A parachute is examined by Frank Bell of the experimental department, Olga Bonelli, army ordnance inspector, and John J. Maggi, head of the firm. Lower right: Louise McCormick tests 'chute harness in specially made machine.

Imprisoned Hero Consoles His Son

To: Mr. Patrick Devereux

QMC., U. S. Army
Governor's Island, New York.

Dear Paddy:

Our loss must have indeed been a shock to you; it was to me. We both loved her so much. I only wish that I could be with you but you are indeed fortunate to have your grand-parents to watch over you. I made a broadcast recording to you last fall. Do hope

In your mother's letter she said you were doing well in church and school. Keep up the good work. You will find both extremely necessary in later life.

Your mother wrote that you were "throwing your weight around" the post on account of the Wake Island Marines. They did quite well and I am proud of them but remember that it just so happened that we were there. Anyone else would have done the same. You must remember that the work done behind the lines is often more vital than that at the front.

Be sure and write everyone saying you have heard from me and give them my love.

Your affectionate father,
Daddy

Devereux was a major stationed on Wake island when the Japanese attacked. When Devereux was asked if he wanted anything he replied with the now historic phrase: "Send us more Japs!"

Boat Blast Survivor

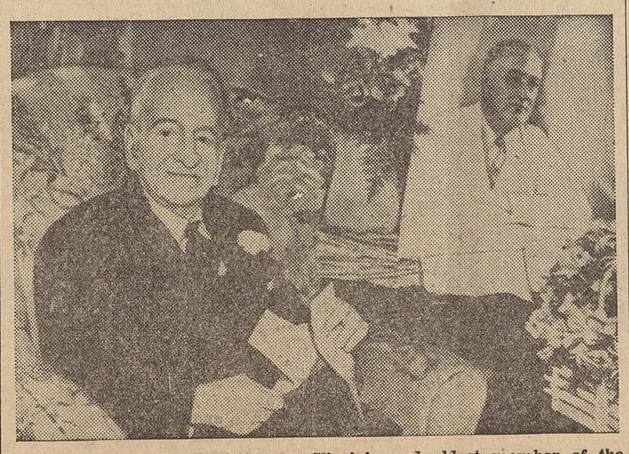
Carter Glass, 86, Is Oldest Senator



Carter Glass, Democrat from Virginia and oldest member of the United States senate, is shown as he read many letters sent by friends on the occasion of his 86th birthday. He is recuperating from a serious illness. Glass said that he believed a victory in 1944 was possible and that he has "the utmost faith in every man and woman in the armed forces."

TACK SNAP FASTENER TAPE TO TABLE; THEN SEW OTHER SIDE OF TAPE TO SKIRT TOP

HOW to cut a flared dressing table skirt without fullness at the top, is something worth knowing. You may be making a smartly tailored affair of white pique with pink bindings and buttons, like the one shown here; or an under lining for a full skirt of transparent material.

The diagram shows how to make a pattern for half of the skirt. The center front may be placed on a fold of the goods in cutting if there is no front opening. Cut the paper by the dimensions in the diagram. Mark point A in 14-inches from the upper left corner. Measure up from the lower right corner a distance equaling the length of the skirt from A to the left edge of the paper and mark point C. Connect these points with lines drawn, as shown.

NOTE—There are three other interesting styles of dressing tables with detailed directions for making in SEWING Book 1. Also slip covers, draw curtains, and numerous household articles. Copy of BOOK 1 will be mailed for 15 cents. Address:

Ships Go Over Bridge

A military bridge built recently across the Shatt-al-Arab river in Iraq acquired a unique feature through a change in design which had to be made after construction began, says Collier's. Although a lift-type drawbridge, its 92-foot span is lowered instead of raised so vessels pass over instead of under it.

Surprise Marriage Announced At Eastern Star Chapter

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon of Dec. 2, 1943, in San Francisco, at the First Baptist church, before the Rev. Lewis J. Julianel, Miss Jeannette Croft of Ocean Beach and Paul A. Hendrickson of San Diego were united in marriage in a simple but impressive wedding ceremony.

Mrs. Hendrickson, nee Miss Croft, proprietrix of the Newport hotel, came here several years ago from Texas. She is an active member of Pt. Loma chapter, O.E.S.

Mr. Hendrickson, a resident of San Diego for 16 years, is a retired navy man and is now associated with the Civil Service at the Naval air station. He has for years been identified with veteran, civic and fraternial affairs in San Diego.

The newlyweds will establish a residence in Ocean Beach when they find a suitable home.

During the after chapter party, Monday evening, of Point Loma O.E.S., the bride announced her marriage and introduced her husband, who as a candidate, was received into the chapter at initiation services, preceding the party. Rice was soon available and the newlyweds were showered as they left the hall.

Kiwani Annes

Kiwani Annes of Ocean Beach met for the regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Lillian Hartvigsen. Mrs. Carryl Holman, vice president, presided during the business meeting and election of officers.

Unanimously elected for 1944 were, Mrs. Holman, president; Mrs. Veda Moss, vice president; Mrs. Dorothy Oster, secretary and Mrs. Esther Milton, treas.

Mrs. Holman presented many new features for the year's program and selected committee chairmen. Highlights of the club's objective and purpose was reviewed for the benefit of new members present.

Attending were, Mmes. Holman, Moss, Oster, Milton, Eleanor Loftus, Cherie Strauss, Fern Plant, Berta Wilhoit, Ann Sharon, Grace Greeson, Nettie Felt, Mary Insko, Helen Parks, Mabel Jones, Florence Sand, Mary Lownes, Dorothy Woodley, Nellie Murphy and Mrs. Pearl Mundt of Madison, Wis., guest of Mrs. Holman.

Mrs. Hartvigsen was appointed distribution chairman for Vanclain Home and Children's Convalescent Home.

The next regular meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Woodley, 4868 Santa Cruz ave.

Samuel E. Cole is absent from his barber shop since Tuesday, when he found he had influenza so bad it was unwise to be out any longer.

Thirty-fifth Wedding Day Observed

Mr. and Mrs. Guido H. Faber, 4967 Saratoga ave., were married Jan. 19, 1909 in Eau Claire, Wis., and on Wednesday observed their 35th or coral-anniversary. The simple wedding rites was performed in the home of Mr. Faber's parents. And a few days later the newlyweds were on their way out west.

Mr. Faber, at that time, was associated with a mining company, and located in Reno, Nev., and later on moved to the northern part of California.

In 1914 Mr. and Mrs. Faber came to San Diego, and for a while Mr. Faber was in real estate, which led him to Ocean Beach. He bought a small grocery store, 5010 Newport, another near his present location, one on Bacon st. and one in Mission Beach.

Four delivery wagons drawn by four trusty horses, made the rounds each day over dusty roads, to the scattered houses of the community. The first motor truck, a Reo, was used by Faber's Grocery, in this section, as well as the horses and wagons. Business was really good in those days, which was before the Mission Bay bridge was built.

Mr. and Mrs. Faber have one son, Guido (Buddy) who was married last Friday and has left for New Orleans. Mrs. Wm. Girdwood, mother of Mrs. Faber, resides with them. They have a lovely home on Saratoga ave., and as an anniversary gift, every room has been refurnished throughout, with beautiful furniture and rugs.

Mr. Faber is a Mason and V. F. W. Mrs. Faber is a member of the Eastern Star and has been chaplain of the V. F. W. auxiliary for two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Faber hold the high esteem and friendship of the community. Their good deeds of kindness, charity and hospitality will always remain in their favor by all who know them from years gone by, now, and forever.

PINK AND BLUE SHOWER AT MECUM HOME

Mrs. Joan Mecum, 4842 Niagara ave., entertained Thursday evening, Jan. 13, with a pink and blue shower honoring Mrs. Marianne Reitz, who is a newcomer from Cleveland, Ohio.

The hostess served a spaghetti buffet supper, at 6 o'clock, followed by the presentation of "wee" gifts. Guests were Mmes. Betty Oliver, Iona Marco, Jaye Owen, Leola Yachlick, Latnelle Shadron, Vida Andrews, Mary Lownes, Patricia Combs and Miss Pearl Bragwell.

Mrs. Reitz' husband, William Reitz, HA2/c, U.S. Navy, is stationed at the San Diego base.

Those participating in the shower-party are clerks of Ben Franklin store.

Ocean Beach Women's Club

Mrs. C. W. Varney served as chairman for the Jan. 13 meeting of the Ocean Beach Women's club held in the clubrooms on Abbott st., and presented Mrs. Mary E. Gemmell, chairman of moving pictures for the San Diego county federation of Women's clubs, who was accompanied by Edwin A. Watkins of the city health department and showed a 15 minute movie on civilian defense.

Following the showing of the picture Mr. Watkins gave an interesting talk and answered questions on the proper use of simple home remedies in case of gas attack by the enemy. Highlights of the meeting recently held by San Diego Coutny Federated club women at La Mesa, was also a feature of the day's program with Mrs. Gemmell leading the discussion on the subject of the Equal Rights amendment for women.

The local club women are taking a vital part in the national project sponsored by the general Federation of Women's clubs for the "Buy a Bomber" campaign and a bomber to be named for the California State federation. Mrs. C. W. Early reported on the bond selling drive and stated that a fleet of 50 bombers is the goal of the national club women.

Mrs. Daisy Munchiando, past president, and Mrs. Irene Stivers assisted Mrs. Varney during the social hour following the program.

Navy Mothers Club To Meet Tuesday

The Sunset Cliffs Navy Mothers Club 151, will hold their second meeting of the new term, Tuesday, Jan. 25, under the new commander, Mrs. Jess Howard.

The morning will be spent sewing on wool quilts for our boys at North Island and the Navy hospital. At noon a paper bag lunch is served, followed by the regular meeting at 1 o'clock.

An outline of the coming year's work will be presented by Mrs. Howard and committees appointed.

All mothers whose sons are in the Navy, Naval Reserves, Marines and Coast Guards are eligible for membership. To contact the club, phone Mrs. Jess Howard, H. 8-3930.

Mrs. Pearl Mundt and son Ronald, of Madison, Wis., are house guests of Mrs. Mundt's brother, Henry Holman and Mrs. Holman. She came west for a short visit with her husband, who was in San Francisco.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER GIVEN FOR MISS MILLER

Miss Betty Thornley entertained in her home Tuesday evening, with a miscellaneous shower complimenting Miss Betty Miller, bride-elect. Pastel pink and blue decorations carried out in the bridal motif. Games were played and each gayly wrapped gift was held "over the head" and the honored guest made a guess.

Invited were Wilberta Jarrard, Colleen Cooksky, GeniaA Sprinkle, Helen Neuman, Arlene Hanson, Shirley Kelly, Dorothy Herron, Louise Thornley, Jackie Herrera, and Betty Hogmire.

When you have read the Bible, you will know it is the word of God, because you will have found it the key to your own heart, your own happiness and your own duty.

Church Service Unites Couple

Miss Maxine Lundberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lundberg, 4738 Santa Cruz, became the bride of Lt. Eugene H. Gallock, U. S. army air corps, at 3 o'clock, Sunday afternoon.

The wedding took place in the First Methodist church, of San Diego, Dr. George A. Warmer reading the service.

A bridal motif was developed with lilies and gladioli. Helen Stowater, accompanied by Janice Babcock on the organ, sang "Because" and "O Promise Me." Miss Babcock also played the wedding marches.

The bride wore a powder blue suit, with delicate coral accessories. Her corsage was a white stephanotis and orchids.

Attendants at the ceremony were Mrs. Harold Lessig, sister of the bride, and Don Gallock, U. S. N., the bridegroom's brother. Mrs. Lessig wore a black dress suit with light blue accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Lt. Gallock is the son of Mrs. L. Kellerhall, of Fresno. Mrs. Gallock, until her marriage, had been employed as secretary to the manager of a theater chain.

After a two-week wedding trip to Los Angeles and Fresno, the young couple will make their home in Victorville, where Lt. Gallock is stationed.

Noted Visitor Buys Picture

During the second day of the current exhibition of the work of the San Diego art guild, at the Fine Arts gallery in San Diego, Joseph Padway, chief counsel of the American Federation of Labor at Washington, D. C., visited the gallery.

Mr. Padway liked a picture of a Mexican child so well, that he bought it on the spot, and took it back with him to Washington. The painting was a portrait in oil, and the artist was Jean Rittenhouse, 4522 Long Branch ave. It will be recalled that Miss Rittenhouse won the popular prize a few years ago, during an exhibition which was held in Holzwasser's store, for her portrait of the late Bud Carberry, "The Fish Cook," who operated a restaurant at that time, on the ocean front, at Ocean Beach.

Star Club O. E. S.

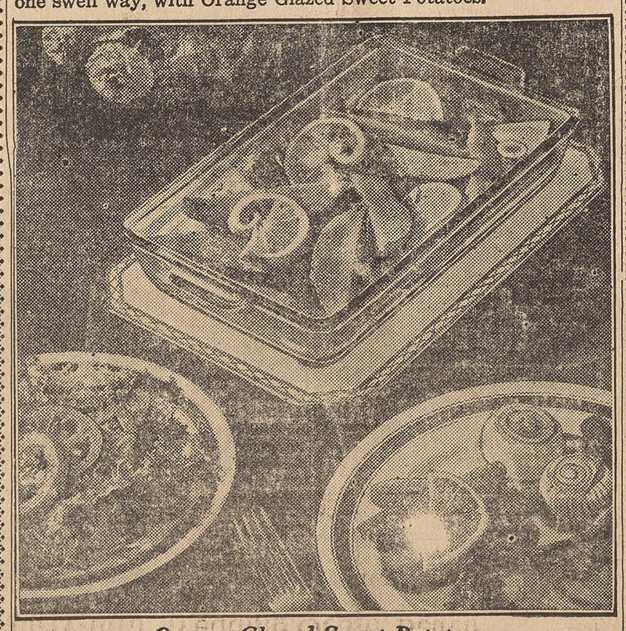
Orange Glazed Sweet Potatoes

Let's eat Sweets! This year's bumper crop of sweet potatoes is 28% larger than last year's, so now is the time to use all the sweet potatoes you can. They are rich in vitamin A, which is sometimes called the "Blackout Vitamin" because it helps the eyes to see in the dark. Sweet potatoes have other valuable food essentials, too, so they're golden nuggets of nutrition in a wartime diet.

Try this grand recipe for Orange Glazed Sweet Potatoes that your family will enjoy, no matter how often you serve them. See what a happy combination this is—tasty glazed sweets, and tempting orange, in just-right proportions. It's a tested recipe, and you get all the delicious flavor of oranges and sweets when you use Spry, the energy-giving, flavor-saving shortening.

Treat the family to sweets! Do it soon and do it often—here's one swell way, with Orange Glazed Sweet Potatoes.



Orange Glazed Sweet Potatoes

4 sweet potatoes
4 tablespoons Spry
1 unpeeled orange, sliced
¾ cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon salt

Cook sweet potatoes until tender; peel, and cut into quarters, lengthwise. Coat casserole with 1 tablespoon Spry. Arrange potatoes and orange slices in oblong casserole. Dot with remaining 3 tablespoons Spry. Combine brown sugar and salt and sprinkle over potatoes and oranges. Cover. Bake in hot oven (400° F.) 30 minutes. Remove cover and bake 10 minutes more, turning potatoes. Serves 6.
